DETROIT GAME

The new "L" management policy of skipping stations to make up time on a shrunken train schedule, resulted in a rear-end collision just north of the Harlem River, out the Third avenue line this afternoon, that just missed being the worst accident the elevated roads of this city ever experienced.

More than thirty persons were injured, sixteen of them seriously enough to warrant hospital attendance. Some of the victims will be laid up for weeks. A glance at a photograph of the wreck is all that is needed to show how narrowly at least two cars escaped from plunging to the street, 35 feet below, and dragging both trains with them.

A southbound Second avenue train, in charge of motor engineer Ralph W. French. was held by signals on the treatle approaching the Harlem River Bridge. The draw was open. French brought his grain to a stop to await the closing of the draw and the signal to go HIGHLANDERS shead. Some distance behind French's train was a Third avenue train in charge of Motor Engineer William H. Hartman, described by officials of the company as an expert electrician sent here by the Westinghouse Company at the time of the strike. Since the Belmont manage-ment has taken charge of the lines the Third avenue road has been giving about half service, because many stations are skipped repeatedly by local Hartman sailed by it at full speed. Rounding the curve below the station he was on top of French's train before Rounding the curve below the station he was on top of French's train before he knew it. Had the regular station atop been made Hartman's train would have been under control and the child have been of so'ght force.

Although Hartman said after the cellision that he did not see the train in front of him on the same track, he succeeded in setting out of the motor box and half way to the rear of the car before the crash. He escaped uninjured.

box and half way to car before the crash. He escaped untinjured.

There were ten passengers in the first car of the colliding train. When they saw Hartman leap for the rein door they followed him. As the trains crashed jogether they were thrown to the floor and not one escaped injury.

Cars Were Telescoped.

The passengers in the rear car of the second evenue train knew nothing of the approach of the train behind until the second evenue train knew nothing of the fleid a smile spread over the grand stand. Willie Keeler took third has and hig John Anderson was siated for right field, with Yeager at short.

(Special to The Evening World.)
POLO GROUNDS, N. Y., May 22.—It looks as though the "scrappy" thing in baseball is the best advertisement a team could have. Thousands came here to-day expecting to see not only a good game, but, perchance, an exchange of amenities between Pirates and Giants. Everybody said "Isn't it brutal?" and all that, but they fairly gloated over the prospect just the same.

First Inning.

Clarke got to first on a hot drive that Dahien neided, but threw poorly to McGann. Devken jumped on Beaumont's sacrifice and beat him to first by an eyelash. Clarke stole third on a rank pitch that Bresnahan raded to hold. Ames got his fine work on Howard, fooling nim on three pretty drops. Clarke scored on Ames's seend erratic fling, a drop that struck about three seel in front of the plate. Klems new indicator called the turn on Wagner with three strikes. It was working beautifully, the flying 'Dutchman' started to kick, but changed his mand. ONE RUN.

Ritchey made a great running catch of Donlin's hoist that descended on the right foul line. George Browne toyed with half a dozon fouls and then tapped a meek one to Leach. McGann's little rap to Ritchey was cequally useless. This round was clearly Pitts-burg's. Flaherty having the Glants Buffaloed with his peculiar pitching. NO RUNS.

Clancy got away with an infield hit that Deviln stopped with his ungloved hand, but could not field. Ritchey tried to sacrifice, but popped to Ames. Leach tried his best to shove the runner around, but died on a high dou't to Bresnahan. Peliz was the time died to Bresnahan. Peliz was the time Pirate to atrike out. NO RUNS.

Bresnahan, was called out on strikes, Klem's judgment being hissed and jeered by even the rooters in Burkeville. Mertes was then celled out on strikes. He objected to the first one and stepped out of the box. While he was arguing Flaherty put two more over. Mertes violently objected, but to no avail. Dahlen lifted an easy fly to Howard.

BELMONT RACE TRACK, May 22.—
Same old game at Belmont Park again this afternoon. "Mets" in the front time and the "Dead Liners" in the rear. It is understood that there will be no change now until the Graves-end meeting begins, where announcement will probably be made of the boost in admission fees and the future conduct of the ring.

There was a good card offered this afternoon and there was in consequence a splendid attendance. The weather conditions were perfect and the track fast. It was an ideal afternoon for racing. This card had two features on, the Amateur Cup at a mile on the flat and the horses to be ridden by gendlemen jockeys, and the other the Van Cortlandt Handicup at seven furlongs. The remainder of the card was interesting and promised keen sport.

Evening World's Selection in CROWD GATHERS WHERE PUGILISTS ARE WEIGHED

Indications Point to Turn Out of One of the Biggest Crowds that Ever Attended a Battle in Slow Town-Many New Yorkers Making Trip There.

(Special to The Evening World.)
PHILADELPHIA, Pa., May 22.—"Battling" Nelson, the fighting Dane, and Abe Attell, of California, are in good shape for their six-round bout at the National Athletic Athletic Club at Eleventh and Catherine streets to-night, and are now awaiting the word from Matchmaker Johnny Kelly to enter the ring and begin their battle. The fighters met at the Hotel Scott shortly before 6 P. M., where they shook hands. A few minutes later they stripped and jumped on the scales, where they weighed in at 130 pounds. A large crowd gathered about the hotel waiting for the puglists to appear. As soon as Nelson came through the door closely followed by his manager. Billy Nolan, the crowd made a rush to get a glimpse of the fighter who has beaten "Young Corbett" in two contests and given Jimmy Britt, the pride of California, the battle of his life. Nelson was quickly hustled upstairs to a room where word was passed out by his manager that no one was to disturb him. Nelson had been in the hotel only a few minutes when his opponent, Attell, entered accompanied by Al Lippe and Billy Long, of New York. They came on a train which had left New York at 3.14 P. M.

Attell looked a trifle heavier than he did when he boxed Tommy Murphy in this city several months ago. He looked in fairly good shape, despite the fact. The fighters met at the Hotel Scott that he has only had two days in which shortly before 6 P. M., where they shook hands. A few minutes later they stripped and jumped on the scales.
